From our Assistant Priest

The heatwave may have passed, but the effects are still with us. Driving through the countryside, I noticed there are already autumn shades in some of the trees, and now what I still call my lawn is covered with falling leaves. Autumn is a season of change, but we maybe weren't expecting it so soon. Sam Cooke wrote A change is gonna come. I have the Otis Redding version. A powerful song of yearning. At a time when African Americans were still fighting for rights that white people take for granted, they looked forward to change for the better. For a lot of us, if our lives are settled and comfortable, change is a slightly scary prospect. What we really want is things to stay the same. For some of us, a change of address, or work, brings new challenges. And for others, bereavement brings change, and that change is permanent, with new challenges to be met. Everyone who has lost one they have loved has to cope with that change.

Like it or not, Camelot parishes are facing change. Not this year, but next, when Tristram retires (I agree - he looks too young to retire. I guess it's down to clean living). And at the moment, there is little we can do to prepare for that change. We don't know whether Tristram will be replaced, and we don't even know whether Camelot will stay together as a group. If someone at Bath and Wells knows, they aren't saying.

Our one recourse is to offer the whole situation to God in prayer, and trust that whatever happens will be in accordance with his will. On 24th September, a Saturday, we're having a Quiet Day at Woolston - there are details elsewhere in Excalibur (page 7). We'll be focussing on change, and how we might face it together. Put the date in your diary now.

The change from summer to autumn is usually a time of great beauty, and the worst of it is that winter follows. But even winter has its charms, and we know that under the snow (remember snow?) new life is about to happen. Maybe that's how it will be for our churches - what seems to be a change for the worse might be a time of new life, and new growth. And we can be preparing for that now - remember, we have a year's notice - it's not being sprung on us unawares. There will be all sorts of opportunities to find our own talents and ministries, that we can use serving God in our churches, and our communities. We have time to prepare. We'll be alright. God is with us. Everything changes except him.

Love to you all,

Ron

Lambeth Conference 2022

Bishop Michael and Bishop Ruth were in Canterbury in August, attending the Lambeth Conference, the once-in-a-decade gathering of around 650 Anglican bishops from 150 countries. Bishop Michael took the opportunity to meet with the bishops attending from our link dioceses in Zambia, a number of whom visited Bath and Wells in the run up to the conference. In a joyous closing service for the conference, Justin Welby, Archbishop of Canterbury said, "Go in peace as God's church to love and serve God's world!" Find out more at:

Be Social

If you go to church and/or volunteer for local good causes, the good that you do to others will come back to you. A recent study has found that having a rich social life can help older people retain normal brain functions, and slow down any onset of dementia. The research, done at the University of Utah, was recently presented to an Alzheimer's UK Research Conference in Brighton.

From the Assistant Bishop

In a simple sense harvest is about receiving – receiving the gifts provided from the fruits of the Earth on which our lives depend for survival. Harvest is also about giving – giving thanks for such wonderful and vital resources to provide us with what we need to live day by day.

But, of course, what we receive through the wonder of harvest does not just happen! Human beings who benefit from harvest have to contribute significantly to growing, pruning, fertilising, collecting and distributing the produce. We share in the creation as well as in the fruits.

This deep truth should remind us of a number of important factors around receiving and giving:

- each human life is received from the miracle of Creation, and is called to play a part in enabling this creation to produce the fruits that sustain us all – food, fellowship, dreams and hopes.
- We receive guidance in how to fulfil this primary purpose in our lives through the teaching and example of Jesus Christ.
- the key is partnership and participation - we are part of one body, with one Head. This is my body: do this in remembrance of me.

- The fact of sin and selfishness means that millions of God's children don't receive a fair share of God's harvest and are left hungry and struggling.

Harvest is the time for giving:

- giving thanks to God for our creation, and for our calling to play a part in the whole of the creation being fruitful.
- giving careful consideration to our failings to work harder for the inclusion of the excluded.
- giving priority to crafting actions which will enable a fairer sharing of the miracle of the harvest.

Harvest is a good time to go to church – let us join others in giving thanks, confessing our failings, and being joined in a universal body that seeks to include all God's children in the sharing of the fruits of the Earth. Give thanks, confess, commit to making a difference – and be part of our public witness for Harvest and Giving.

Every blessing,

† Bishop Alistair

Angus was driving down the street worried because he had an important meeting and couldn't find a parking place. So, looking up toward heaven, he said "Lord, take pity on me. If you find me a parking place I will go to church every Sunday for the rest of my life and give up whisky." A moment later, miraculously, a parking place appeared. Angus looked up again and said, "Never mind. I found one."

INTERVIEW - With God's help

Revd Kevin Wright has witnessed generosity in action since he became Rector of The Benefice of Three Saints.

How have you witnessed generosity in your church?

Having arrived here in March 2019, I was just getting my head round things when the pandemic hit. My predecessor and his then treasurer had the vision to encourage generosity and to encourage the church family to donate via standing order but unfortunately with limited success, now most give regularly by this method.

What changed?

It was a combination of factors. A new face making the request can help get the message across and we also made clear that we were requesting donations to our Church Life Fund, that the money donated would be spent on keeping the church family going by supporting mission and ministry, and I think that helped. The pandemic also had an impact as people appreciated our online ministry and were mindful that they couldn't donate in person. The whole process was underpinned with prayer.

So have people been more generous?

Yes. We have moved from being in a position of struggling to pay all our parish share, the pot that all churches contribute into to pay for ministry and mission across the diocese as a whole, to being in a position to be able to pay for more than we are asked for which is wonderful.

What about your church buildings?

Unfortunately, it isn't all good news. Like many churches, we are still struggling to pay the bills for our church buildings, which rely on separate accounts. But I give thanks to God for the committed church family we have here, for their incredible generosity and for the position we are in.

If your church is looking for advice or support on giving go to:

FETE AND HOG ROAST

Saturday 3rd September. It seems like only yesterday when we enjoyed celebrating the Queen's Platinum Jubilee with our BBQ on the Playing Fields and massive beacon on Cadbury Castle.

In just 4 weeks we hope you, your family and your friends will come to the South Cadbury Village Fête. Last year, over 350 people joined in the fun and we're planning for even more this year – fingers crossed the weather will be great as it was last year.

The Fête starts at 2.00pm and is followed at 5.00pm with a Hog Roast (with vegan options), live music and licensed bar until late!

Attractions include:

Wyvern Jubilee Morris Dancers
Children's Fancy Dress Competition
Pony Rides
Vintage Tractor & Motorbike Display
Beat the Goalie
Skittles
Goat and calf petting
Great Village Bake Off Competition

All of us are feeling the pinch this year, with inflation at 10% and rising. We will keep our prices down because we want everyone to come, have a great time and not worry about the costs.

Competition details and any later updates will be posted on nextdoor.co.uk. Search for "South Cadbury Fete."

How can you help?

Please email
Village.Hall@SouthCadbury.org.uk if you can:

Volunteer for an hour

Large scale events - such as the Jubilee and Fête - take a lot of preparation and depend on a large team of volunteers on the day. We'd love to have enough volunteers to run the stall that we can create a rota, giving everyone plenty of time to enjoy the event as well as help make it happen.

What time can you offer and when? We'll be setting up on Friday and Saturday morning and clearing up on Sunday morning. But the key time we need help is between 2.00pm and 5.00pm on Saturday.

Belonging to God

*How good you are, Lord, and how near you are to us –
so near that we may always talk to you,
be comforted by you,
breathe through you,
be enlightened by you,
find peace in you,
and gain spiritual nourishment
from you.*

*Grant that my fellowship with you
may never be polluted
by malice, pride, envy, greed, gluttony or falsehood.*

Grant that I may belong wholly to you.

By John Sergieff (1829–1908) a Russian priest of humble family, who became renowned for his prayers which ordinary people could use.
