From the Rectory

This month has of course been marked and indeed overshadowed by the news of the death of the Queen.

On the Sunday before her state funeral we held a series of commemorative services in the Camelot benefice. They felt very special services and enabled us at a local level to join in with countless other churches across the country in remembering and giving thanks for the Queen's long and faithful service.

And then there was the actual funeral in Westminster Abbey which I watched on television. One of the purposes of any funeral is to remind us of our own mortality and the meaning of our own lives. As the rubric in the Common Worship service puts it, we are to pray for the readiness to live in the light of eternity.

At the beginning of his sermon the Archbishop of Canterbury drew a contrast between leaders who were exalted in their own lifetime and forgotten later with those whose leadership was, like the Queen, marked by love and service. It is those leaders who will continue to be remembered. So we are not to cling on to power and privileges but rather to pour ourselves out for the sake of others.

These words remind us of the well known passage in Philippians where Christ who is in very nature God nevertheless did not consider equality with God something to be held on to. Rather he emptied Himself and took on the nature of a servant. However, through humbling Himself to the point of dying on the Cross, Christ was in the end exalted to the very highest place and given the name that is above all others.

In our own lives this makes us ask ourselves what we are clinging on to. It may not necessarily be power and privilege. It could be anything (other than God) which gives us comfort and security. Nevertheless it takes courage and confidence to let go and to trust God with our future. As a poem which the Queen suggested that her father King George VI read in his Christmas broadcast at the beginning of the Second World War puts it,

I said to the man who stood at the gate of the year:

"Give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown."

And he replied:

"Go out into the darkness and put your hand into the Hand of God. That shall be to you better than light and safer than a known way."

The Death of the Queen

Bishop Michael's message to the diocese:

When she was just 21, the future Queen Elizabeth said this 'I declare before you all that my whole life, whether it be long or short, shall be devoted to your service'. Today, the long life of our Queen has come to an end. For almost all of us, we cannot recall life before her steady, consistent presence among us, and we are reeling at her loss. So I speak to you today at a time of great sorrow for the Queen's family, for our country, for the whole Commonwealth and for all whom Queen Elizabeth served.

In our sadness and confusion, we give thanks for a life long lived, a life well lived, of service, daily steadfastness. All of us will have our own memories of the Queen. I was privileged to meet with the Queen earlier this year when I became Bishop here in Bath and Wells. It was extraordinary to meet her and to encounter her focus, her inquisitiveness, her interest.

The bedrock of the Queen's life that has shone out through the years is her faith in Jesus Christ. We now commend her to His care and keeping, claiming for Queen Elizabeth Jesus' promise that all who believe in Him will have eternal life.

From the Bishop

Many of us know well Bob Dylan's song 'The Times They Are A-Changin'. Was it written with us in mind? None of us could have predicted the changes that we have seen in 2022. The death of our beloved Queen Elizabeth, the accession of a new King, a war in Ukraine, a cost-of-living crisis. None of these were on the cards as we made our new year's resolutions on the 1st of January.

Yet happen they have. And whether we like it or not, we're forced to agree with Bob Dylan's lyrics that the times are indeed changing. What can see us though these days?

A phrase that's often used about the period through which we're going is 'unprecedented'. I'm not sure it's entirely valid! Previous generations have faced situations as challenging or more than ours – seasons of plagues, wars, famines and conquest. The times in which the New Testament was written were, for its writers, periods of profound uncertainty. Its writers faced violence and vulnerability, conflict and dispute. Yet into their times they were able to speak words of hope, confidence and assurance.

One such phrase that stands out for me is a line from the letter to the Hebrews. Hebrews was written in response to a time of persecution and the possibility of people falling back from the faith as a result. Into its time and ours, the writer of the letter makes an extraordinary claim: 'Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever.' (Hebrews 13: 8)

The same yesterday, today and forever

Just imagine! The one who walked in Galilee has been there for his people throughout time, is with us now, and will be whatever the future may hold.

So respectfully, I have to disagree with Bob Dylan. In his song he tells us that in the face of times that are 'a-changin', we'd better start 'swimmin'. Much better than hyperactive splashing, I suggest, is to live out our vision to 'live and tell the story of Jesus'. For it's as we do so that we can hold fast to the one who is constant and unchanging, who holds us always in the palm of his hands; Jesus Christ who is 'the same yesterday, today and forever.'

✠ Bishop Michael

How delightful to see the children back in school after the long summer holiday. We are thrilled to see how quickly and enthusiastically they settled into school routines and their love of learning evident in the classrooms, once again.

As you may have heard, it has been a very unusual summer for staff and families at North Cadbury. Towards the end of the term, our wonderful Head Teacher, Lisa Thompson, was suddenly diagnosed with Acute Myeloid Leukaemia. You will be aware that this is a serious condition, but thankfully Mrs Thompson is receiving excellent treatment and care at Musgrove Park Hospital. Her treatment plan is very intensive but is showing positive early signs.

Naturally, we want to maintain the high standards and positive culture that Mrs Thompson has created over the last few years. During her period of absence, I have assumed the role of Head Teacher and we have recruited two delightful members of staff, Mrs Smith and Mrs Ward, to cover class roles. We are blessed with a wonderful team and the school will continue to flourish, ready for Mrs Thompson to take back the reins, when she is fit and well.

I'm sure your thoughts and prayers will be with her during this time.

Over the last three years we have been tirelessly working to secure improved accommodation for our children in the form of new classrooms that will adjoin and complement our beautiful Victorian school.

Unfortunately, Covid has meant that prices for raw materials and construction have increased dramatically and therefore the initial funding, secured from the DFE, is no longer sufficient to see the project through to our initial plan.

We would like to secure additional funding through continued fundraising projects and we hope, as a community, you can support us in the endeavour, to see Mrs Thompson's vision come to fruition and the children provided with vibrant, warm and permanent classrooms. If anyone knows of any likely donation sources, please let me know.

Looking forward to working alongside parishioners during this academic year.

With my very best wishes,

Mrs Amy Truett

One hundred years of the BBC

One hundred years ago, on 18th October 1922, the BBC was officially founded as the British Broadcasting Company (now the British Broadcasting Corporation).

It was originally a private company, in which only British manufacturers were permitted to hold shares. But three years later it was liquidated and in 1927 replaced by a public corporation – the British Broadcasting Corporation – which had almost complete independence and, until the passing of the Television Act of 1954, a monopoly of the television service in Britain.

That year saw the birth of commercial television. The BBC's monopoly of radio ended when the Government permitted local commercial broadcasts, starting in the 1970s.

The BBC is not allowed to advertise or broadcast sponsored programmes. It should also not broadcast any opinion of its own on current affairs and

The following are genuine notes left for milkmen:

Dear Milkman: I've just had a baby, please leave another one.

Cancel one pint after the day after today.

Please don't leave any more milk. All they do is drink it.

Please close the gate behind you because the birds keep pecking the tops of the milk.

Please do not leave milk at no. 14 as he is dead until further notice.

matters of public policy, and be impartial on controversial issues. In recent years the BBC has been criticised for not keeping to these rules, but they were foremost in the mind of Lord Reith, the BBC's first Director General – a Scottish Presbyterian with strong Christian convictions whose influence lingered for many years.

The BBC has a public service broadcasting requirement to produce 115 hours of religious content on TV and 370 hours on radio each year. This of course leaves open the definition of religious content: atheists have complained that there is too much religion on the BBC, while Christians might point to the overtly secular assumptions made in the vast majority of its output.

NORTH CADBURY VILLAGE HALL

We need your help.

The North Cadbury Village Hall Committee is changing and new committee members are required. Some are stepping down after years of service to the community and some are leaving the area.

Can you help?

Are you interested in helping? We are a friendly bunch and meetings take place approximately every two months.

7.00pm Thursday 13th October is the AGM. Drinks and Nibbles will be available. Come along and join us for the AGM and, if you are interested, consider joining the Village Hall Trustees and Committee Members.

What does the village hall committee do?

We raise funds for the village hall and village playing fields to ensure both are maintained and available for use and hire by the local communities.

Used for what you ask?

This last year the hall has been used for monthly sessions of the Folk Nights, Table Tennis, Garden Club events and Social Gatherings including the Monthly Coffee Morning and 200 club.

What is the 200 club? It is a local lottery where for £12 per year you get allocated a number. And a draw is held at each monthly coffee morning where you can possibly win £50, £20 or £10 each month and double that on the Christmas draw.

What else?

We regularly show Films during the winter and a number of Music and Art events have already been held this year including Flats and Sharps, a bluegrass band, and John Hegley, a comedian and poet.

We have held a couple of Summer Play Days for young children during the school holiday.

The Camelot Players put on productions, this year we had Chaucer's Canterbury Tales and they regularly preform Pantomimes.

We also in collaboration with The Catash Inn put on a Jubilee fete and a Big Jubilee Picnic over the Jubilee Weekend.

Race Nights are also a popular event as are the Quiz nights.

What do we do with the money we raise?

Some of it goes on maintaining the buildings and the playing fields, obviously, costs are rising so this is proving more of a drain on the funds but we have still managed to install the Jubilee Copse and two park benches this year. A further two benches have also been installed thanks to a donation from the Catash Inn Jubilee Fete takings.

We have also paid for and installed 3 new pieces of play equipment in the playing field. The Birds Nest Swing, the Climbing Frame, and the See-saw. All from Village Hall funds. They are proving very popular.

A number of other charity events have taken place, Pancake Night, Kievs for Kyiv, a Race night in collaboration with the Brue Valley Rotary club and the Harvest Lunches.

In addition, the Village Hall is available for Private Hire for parties and practice band sessions, wakes and generally anything else you can think of.

All this activity takes time and effort from the various volunteers and village hall committee. Some of it requires little help but other events need more volunteers.

GARDENING CLUB

We are a friendly and sociable group who have an interest in gardening in common. We generally meet on the 3rd Wednesday of each month at 7.30pm in the village hall. We also meet for garden visits, plant sales and social events. We will have had our eagerly anticipated 'English Wine and Vineyards' talk by the time this is printed with samples to try and wine to buy from a vineyard near Taunton.

The next opportunity to join us is on the 19th October for a talk on 'A Victorian Head Gardener' by Francis Burroughes, a Somerset resident and gardening enthusiast whose father's gardening experience was gained on an estate that was still run in the Victorian work model and who passed on his knowledge to Francis. There'll be a raffle on the evening and teas after the talk. Non-members and guests are always welcome for a small fee. Doors open at 7.00pm.

A Long Life is Ended

An aged heart flutters and ceases to beat.

*A long life is ended
but not in defeat!*

*For ninety-six years
of duty and love,
a long life inspired by her God above!*

*For seventy years
the crown she did wear and "Long live the Queen!" –
God answered our prayer!*

*But now she is with him
God's true to his word.
We'll ask him for guidance for King Charles the Third!*
